Republican Party Platform Writers Foresee Headache

BY FRANCIS M. LE MAY
Washington, June 10 (AP)—Broad differences among top Republicans in Congress, on issues of domestic and global import, point to a king size headache for GOP platform writers.

This family feuding on Capitol Hill is bound to echo in Philadelphia, where the platform committee meets a week from today—five days ahead of the opening of the Republican national convention. GOP presidential aspirants have joined in the scraps.

Not that Democratic policy framers are going to have any picnic themselves—what with the Dixie revolt over President Truman's Civil Rights program and other differences.

But the Republicans come to bat first.

Moreover, they may have more irritations heaped upon them if Congress returns to work after the GOP convention—as now appears possible. Democrats then would be in a position to call upon the majority party to deliver in Congress on every promise made at Philadelphia.

"We won't let that bother us," House Speaker Martin of Massachusetts, a darkhorse contender for the presidential nomination, told a reporter today.

As for internal differences, Republicans were jubilant over what some called a "harmonizing" of varied views within the party on the tariff question. This came about earlier in the week with Senate Finance committee approval of a compromise bill prolonging the life of the reciprocal trade agreements act in modified form.

Russians Restrict Travel In Germany

New Bans Are Placed On Border Crossings

BY RICHARD KASISCHKE
Berlin, June 10 (AP)—The Russians have imposed new travel bans between their zone of Germany and the British-American sectors. Some Allied quarters interpreted the Soviet action as a new pressure move.

The new restrictions have affected interzonal travel and caused considerable confusion at several border points.

Allied motor travel between Berlin and the west, which passes through the British border zone of Helmsdorf, was not affected.

U. S. and British authorities said no Russian border crossing points were completely closed to travelers but numerous new hindrances to inter-zonal travel imposed.

Some Allied observers believe one purpose of the Russian move is further to seal off their zone from the west. Another likely objective, they said, was to exert pressure in the inter-Allied political jockeying in Berlin.

Briggs Plant Hit By Walkout No. 7

Detroit, June 10 (AP)—The Briggs Manufacturing Co. was hit by the seventh walkout in four days while federal mediators sought to settle a company-wide wage dispute with the CIO United Auto Workers.

Briggs' Meldrum plant, which makes bodies for convertibles and other types of cars, was closed when 800 men on the first shift left their jobs.

Philadelphia Lines Up Too Many Rooms For GOP Convention

BY LEE LINDER
Philadelphia, June 10 (AP)—There's a room surplus in Philadelphia today for the June 21 Republican National Convention.

"It's embarrassing," say city officials.

"It's unexpected," say GOP housing committee workers.

In February, a room shortage loomed. Five thousand promised hotel rooms would barely accommodate the 2,133 delegates and alternates, members of the press, radio and television and Republican officials.

Mayor Bernard Samuel ordered the set up of an auxiliary housing committee to secure additional housing.

By June this committee, headed by Frank C. P. McGlinn, had obtained some 10,000 rooms.

"We have nearly 5,000 rooms, mostly in private homes, with no takers," McGlinn said.

"It's really an embarrassing surplus," he said. Philadelphia is to take convention visitors into their homes and now we find we have a shortage of visitors."

Actually, there will be no dearth of convention-goers. McGlinn estimated that 18,000 persons will jam the Quaker City for the convocation.

What's keeping many visitors home is the scarcity of tickets.

McGlinn said people don't want to come to the convention and then not get in to witness the proceedings.

Meantime, GOP arrangement committee strategists are putting a big chunk of their convention expense money into entertainment.

Republicans are set to spend $5,000-a-day for band music, with noted society orchestra leader Meyer Davis leading a 50-piece aggregation.

Davis, who is co-author of the GOP's new campaign song "Date in '48," says he has prepared a list of 1,000 songs.

"We expect to be asked to play every state anthem and the favorite tunes of the respective candidates," Davis said.

Mrs. Horace Sayre, vice chairman of the Republican National Committee and head of the committee of decoration and music, said "the entertainment program this year will be the biggest and best we've ever had."

"We've got a host of famous singers scheduled to perform during the sessions. These include James Melton, Todd Duncan, Eleanor Steber, Virginia Davis, Gladys Swarthout and Morton Downey."

Advises Addes loses $7,500 position, seeks $20 weekly jobless pay

Detroit, June 10 (AP)—George Addes' application for jobless pay was on file with the Michigan Unemployment Compensation commission today.

The 37-year-old labor figure lost his $7,500 a year position as secretary-treasurer of the CIO United Auto Workers last November when President Walter Reuther carried his slate with him into office. Addes had held the UAW post since 1936.

Addes said recently he had been "resting" since his defeat. He had no comment on his application for unemployment compensation, but expressed a wish that the press would "leave me alone to enjoy private life."

If Addes qualifies for unemployment compensation, he will get $20 a week for 20 weeks.

FIRE AT FOCHOW
Shanghai, June 10 (AP)—Central News agency said today a fire Monday night wiped out buildings on twenty streets and alleys in the Fochow, South China, business district. It reported 1,239 houses were destroyed, among other buildings. Emergency relief stations were set up for the estimated 12,000 homeless.

Outlook Not Bright To Bring Permanent Peace In Palestine

(By The Associated Press)

Arab and Jewish troops in Palestine were being ordered today to stop killing each other, effective at 1 a. m. EST, Friday.

Only cautious optimism was expressed around the United Nations that the four-week armistice and arms embargo would endure. There was even less hope that in the four weeks a formula for permanent peace would emerge.

It was difficult to see how the basic issue of partition could be resolved, short of armed intervention by the U. N.—and that might lead to even greater, worldwide conflict.

"We have achieved only the first step," Count Folke Bernadotte, the U. N. mediator, commented in Cairo on the unconditional acceptance of the truce by Israel and the seven warring Arab states.

Russia Wants Observers
Irgun Zvai Leumi, once the Jewish underground but now part of Israel's army, rebuked its own government for accepting the truce. It wanted all Arabs withdrawn from Palestine and said the truce terms would mean a deterioration of Israel's political and military status.

The outbreak possibly is a prelude to Irgun defiance of the truce.

Moscow Complains Of U.S. Propaganda

America Charged With Agitating New War

London, June 10 (AP)—Russia has complained to the American government and the United Nations that "unbridled propaganda for a new war is being carried on in the United States," Moscow radio said today.

An official note protesting that the United States is violating a United Nations resolution condemning warmongering was handed to American officials in Washington yesterday, the broadcast said, with a copy to Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the United Nations.

The specific Russian complaint was against an article in newsweek, "which contains slanderous inventions directed against the Soviet Union and depicting the Soviet Union as an aggressor allegedly preparing to attack the United States."

"This article also expounds a plan for utilization of the American air force, air bases and atom bombs against the Soviet Union, in particular for the destruction of such Soviet towns as Moscow, Leningrad, Kiev, Kharkov and Odessa," the broadcast version of the note said.

Choice of Elliott Successor Delayed By Governor Sigler

Lansing, June 10 (AP)—Governor Sigler delayed indefinitely today the appointment of a new state superintendent of public instruction.

Sigler had said daily this week that he was almost ready to make the appointment, but today he said his choice had withdrawn from consideration and that he must find another candidate.

The governor said he might announce the appointment while he was in the east attending the national governors' conference and the National Republican convention or might make it after he returns.

The retiring superintendent, Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, leaves July 1 to become president of Michigan State Normal college.

Police Detain Two Men In Robbery Of River Rouge Bank

Detroit, June 10 (AP)—Two ex-convicts were arrested today in connection with the $4,400 holdup last Friday of the Downriver Federal Savings and Loan association in suburban River Rouge.

Harry T. O'Connor, FBI agent in charge here, identified them as Frank J. Wiley, 45, a desk clerk at a Detroit hotel, and Harry Saris, 30, a construction worker in Leslie, Mich.

Wiley was arrested in Detroit and Saris in Leslie on federal bank robbery warrants.

O'Connor said the men had been friends since they served terms together in Southern Michigan prison.

Draft Bill Final Vote Due Today

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
Washington, June 10 (AP)—Worn down by talk, senators pledged a final vote today on their peace-time draft bill.

They agreed to begin balloting on remaining amendments at 3 p. m. (2 EST) with the likelihood of the showdown rollcall an hour later.

Both Republican and Democratic leaders forecast that the Military Manpower Bill would be approved. Then it moves over to the House for another battle.

That one won't be as drawn out—if it comes. But it still remains to be seen whether the powerful rules committee will let the bill reach the House floor.

The Senate's agreement to vote—coupled with a limit on debate—came after three consecutive day-and-night sessions. Clocks in the chamber had passed the midnight hour after 13½ hours of angry debate.

As the climactic balloting neared, these were the major features of the bitterly contested measure to revive Selective Service:

1. All men from 18 through 25 would have to register, with those

Illness Is Fatal To Schwollenbach, Labor Secretary

L. B. Schwollenbach

Washington, June 10 (AP)—Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwollenbach, 53, former senator and federal judge, died today after a long illness.

President Truman, a close friend and former Senate colleague, was notified immediately. The president is in Schwollenbach's home state of Washington on a speaking tour.

Mr. Truman received the news at Olympia "with the deepest regret," he termed Schwollenbach "a warm personal friend * * * a great senator, a great judge and a great secretary of labor."

The White House said Schwollenbach died at 4:40 a. m. (3:40 a. m. EST) at Walter Reed hospital where he had been a patient since May 23.

Mrs. Schwollenbach was at his bedside.

Followed Miss Perkins
The White House statement attributed death to "cardiac failure which complicated his recent illness." Funeral plans are incomplete.

There was no immediate indication who Mr. Truman might pick for the cabinet post.

David A. Morse is undersecretary and has been serving as acting secretary during Schwollenbach's illness.

He was a senator from 1935 until his resignation on December 16, 1940, to accept the federal judgeship in Washington—a post he resigned to join the cabinet.

Illness had prevented Schwollenbach from taking an active part in recurring labor crisis of the last several months. Last April he took a cruise to Havana in an effort to regain his health but was removed from shipboard in New York harbor on his return. He was taken to a hospital on Governors Island for treatment of a respiratory infection.

Downpours Swell Northwest Floods

Portland, Ore., June 10 (AP)—Flash floods and high tides heaped new threats on the water-weary Pacific northwest today. The swollen Columbia and Fraser rivers built their three-week flood siege toward new heights.

Three cloudbursts and a five-hour downpour sent tons of water hurtling into the raging Columbia and more farmland was added to some 650 square miles already under water. The weather forecast: showers and thundershowers.

High tides rolled in from the Pacific, threatening anew more than 11,000 harassed defenders of almost swamped dikes guarding Oregon-Washington and British Columbia lowlands where the Columbia and Canada's Fraser rivers meet the sea. Leakage along the levees increased steadily.

The death toll for 22 days of flood was 32—upped two by the drowning yesterday of a 10-year-old boy and a railroad division engineer.

The Red Cross in Portland said 335 still were unaccounted for in the Memorial Day flooding of Vancouver—war housing city of 18,700—and it issued a "critical list" of 121 names. The relief agency said it has exhausted all means—relatives and Vancouver neighbors—of locating the 121.

Damage—already in countless multi-millions—mounted steadily. A cloudburst in British Columbia formed a flash flood last night that swept away 15 miles of Canadian Pacific railway track in the Kootenay district of the Columbia's headwaters. The washout was between Balfour and Procter.

Columbia floodwaters edged upward in the smelter city of Trail, B. C. All beer parlors, clubs, liquor stores and pool rooms closed as an urgent call was issued for more volunteer flood-fighters. Sidewalks were awash at spots on the main thoroughfare. Water stood five feet deep in the Palm room of the Crown Point hotel.

Plea Made Against Foreign Aid Slash
Stassen Is Witness At Hearing In Senate

Washington, June 10 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen pleaded with Congress today "not to tarnish the national honor of our country" by cutting European recovery funds.

The Minnesota, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, said a cut would be a "breach of commitment" to the 16 European nations cooperating in the economic recovery program.

Stassen, at his own request, was a witness before the Senate appropriations committee. That group is considering a House-passed appropriation bill trimming a billion-plus dollars from the $5,300,000,000 that Congress authorized last spring for recovery aid to Western Europe.

Stassen asked the committee to recommend that the Senate vote the full $5,300,000,000 and insist that the House agree to it.

The Minnesota took issue with the President Truman indirectly by praising the record of the Congress. Yesterday, Truman called this Congress "the worst" in the country's history.

Prince Bertil Says American Influence Helped His Country
Rockford, Ill., June 10 (AP)—Prince Bertil of Sweden says no foreign country has influenced his native land more than has the United States.

"It is safe to say that this influence is part of our strength," he told a civic banquet last night which highlighted his three-day visit to Rockford. His visit was part of a folk festival celebrating the 100th anniversary of the arrival of Swedish settlers in this community.

The prince and the party accompanying him planned to return to Chicago today. Later they will go to Detroit and then to Rock Island, Ill.

Arsonist Blamed In $40,000 School Fire At Detroit

Detroit, June 10 (AP)—Detective Sgt. Hobart Harris today blamed an arsonist for a $40,000 fire at the Myra Jones elementary school.

The blaze kept 530 pupils from their classes. It damaged one room, the roof and attic.

Harris said someone crawled up a fire escape chute to set the fire in the 40-year-old East Side school.

Monday marks the 171st anniversary of the adoption of the Stars and Stripes as the national emblem by the continental congress.

Lewis Hints At Another Coal Strike

By Harold W. Ward And Roger D. Greene

Washington, June 10 (AP)—Rep. Hartley (R-N.J.) said today it is "obvious that John L. Lewis is getting ready for another soft coal strike next month. He appealed to the Republican leadership to keep Congress in session to deal with any such emergency."

"That Lewis is not bargaining in good faith is equally obvious," said Hartley, chairman of the House labor committee and co-author of the Taft-Hartley Labor Act.

He referred to the negotiations between Lewis and the soft coal operators which began Monday. Lewis yesterday offered to keep the miners at work after their contract expires July 1, if the employers would agree to put his pension plan into effect "forthwith."

The operators, in turn, made a full-fledged contract offer to the miners which Lewis took "under advisement." The mine owners proposed no wage increase but agreed to continue the present 10-cent-a-ton royalty to finance pensions and other health and welfare benefits.

The royalty was fixed at 10 cents in the expiring one-year agreement, but more than $40,000,000 has piled up in the bank, untouched. Lewis and the operators have been unable to agree on the amount of pensions to be paid, or who is eligible to receive the old age allowance.

The operators' contract offer, beside "freezing" the wage rate at the present basic $13.05 a day, would continue the 40-hour work week.

Mihai and Princess Married In Athens

Royal Families United In Greek Ceremony

By L. S. CHAKALES
Athens, June 10 (AP)—Handsome Mihai I of Romania took Princess Anne of Bourbon-Parma as his bride today in a glittering ceremony before a small gathering of royalty.

The highest churchman of Greece, Archbishop Damaskinos, pronounced in Greek the solemn ritual of the Orthodox church to unite the abdicated head of Romania's royal family to the House of Denmark.

Anne is a Roman Catholic and failed to win special dispensation from Rome for her marriage to Mihai in the Greek rite. Mihai insisted upon the Greek ceremony and upon bringing up his children in that faith, to protect his claim to the throne he says he was forced to abdicate.

The archbishop, former regent of Greece, spoke the last words of ceremony: "Isiah Horepse," which means "with the help of God, dance." In accordance with the ancient rite, Mihai and Anne made three turns around the table while the guests showered them with rice and rose petals. Their crowns, borrowed from the Greek royal house, were connected by a ribbon, symbolizing their union.

DAIRY COSTS IN U. P. STUDIED

180 Dairy Farmers Assist By Keeping Records

One hundred and eighty dairy farmers in the Upper Peninsula participating in a dairy cost study will keep account records this year so that average production costs per 100 pounds of milk may be obtained.

The study is divided into three Upper Peninsula areas, with 60 cooperating dairy farmers in the Eastern area, 60 in the Central (which includes Menominee, Dickinson and Delta counties), and 60 in the Western area. The division was made because of the variation in the markets and conditions.

J. L. Heirman, Delta agricultural agent, and William Lutz, dairy specialist of the Chatham Experimental Station, have been contacting the cooperating dairy farmers in this county in establishing the record system for the year.

The study starts with an inventory of the farmer's dairy enterprise, and closes with an inventory at the end of the year. The farmer will keep an accurate account of his expenditures for feed, dairy equipment and supplies, and labor. From those accounts the Michigan State College farm management department can determine the average cost of producing 100 pounds of milk.

Also included in the study is the cost of raising heifers and the cost of keeping a bull.

Dairy industry cost figures were available from a study made in Lower Michigan. Conditions are different in the U. P., however, and a study in the three U. P. areas was deemed advisable to arrive at production costs.

State Asks Report From Assessors On Local Valuations

The state tax commission this year is asking assessors in Michigan counties for additional information which will be of assistance to the state in providing a uniform method of obtaining and compiling information for equalizing county valuations.

Assessing officers in the townships are the supervisors, while the cities have appointed assessors. These assessing officers are required to file a written report on changes in assessment to the county board of equalization committee.

Figures submitted by the assessors this year must show new construction, increases and adjustments in real property valuations; additional private property and adjustments.

The equalization committee of the county board will file with the state tax commission a report on forms provided by the state for that purpose.

The Delta county board of supervisors will meet on Monday, June 28, in the court house at Escanaba for its annual equalization session.

Martin Rosenberry, Wisconsin's Chief Justice, Retiring

Chief Justice Martin B. Rosenberry, of the Wisconsin State Supreme Court, an uncle of Mrs. Stanley Matthews, 500 South 8th street, who has visited in Escanaba on numerous occasions and is well known here, has announced his retirement from the bench, on which he has served continuously for 32 years.

The announcement which appears in today's Milwaukee Sentinel under a Madison date line, follows:

Marvin B. Rosenberry, 80, member of the State Supreme Court for 32 years and chief justice since 1929, will not be a candidate for re-election in the spring of 1949, he said today. His term expires Jan. 9, 1950.

Rosenberry's retirement will make Justice Oscar M. Fritz, chief justice. One Milwaukeean has ever held the chief justiceship.

Justice Rosenberry was appointed to the high court in 1916 by Gov. Emmanuel Philipp to succeed Justice John Barnes. Two years later he was elected to serve the remainder of Barnes' term and in 1919 was re-elected for a full ten year term.

Upon the death of Chief Justice A. J. Vinje, he became chief of the court. He has served in this high post longer than any man in the history of the court.

In announcing his plan to retire, Justice Rosenberry said he was making the announcement at this time "with due regard for public interest, because of the speculation concerning the 1949 judicial election."

Rosenberry will not retire entirely, he said, adding that he "confidently looks forward to a considerable period of service in other fields."

Justice Fritz, 70, is a former Milwaukee circuit court judge, first appointed to the supreme bench in 1929.

in the field of social welfare, to make the programs of the various agencies better known to each other and to develop in-service education for social workers.

RAINS IMPROVE CROP OUTLOOK

Prospects Brighter For Local Agriculture

Recent rains have improved the 1948 crop outlook in the Delta county area with prospects for a good year unless drought strikes again, J. L. Heirman, county agricultural agent, said today.

"Prior to the recent rains pastures and hay crops suffered severely from lack of moisture," the county agent said. "Hay crops will not be as good as was anticipated earlier in the season, although the rain helped. The hay crop will be good but not as good as we had hoped for."

Grain crops are "pretty good" but, like hay, needs more moisture for better growth.

Potatoes are all planted in the county, with the total between 2,200 and 2,400 acres. This is about the same as last year. Although most of the potato planting was during the spring dry spell, the crop does not seem to have been impaired and potatoes are up on some farms.

Most of the corn has been planted and some of it is up two and three inches. Green bean acreage in the county totals about 250, the same as 1947, and some of the beans are up. Most of acreage is under contract to a cannery.

Besides the dry weather, garden crops in some low-lying areas were slightly damaged by frosts last Sunday morning, the county agent reported. Beans and tomatoes were nipped in country gardens.

Canton Hiawatha formed a military escort of honor with Charles Pariseau, commander, and C. N. Wood conducted the Odd Fellows ritual at the grave.

RICH FISHES AT RAINY RIVER

Midland News Publisher On Ontario Trip

By Phil Rich
Ernie Calvert's Camps, Lake-of-the-woods country (near Rainy River Ontario) — June 4—We are all looking forward to this part of the trip and we are on our way out to Ernie's camp about 4 a. m.

The CPR transferred us to the Canadian National and here we go on west.

One reason we want to get out there is so that Ernie can make good on his promises.

Ernie, who heads Ontario Outfitters, joined us in Toronto. He's been our companion, guide and friend. And he's had to take no end of kidding about the fish in his area. So by now he's ready to prove up.

Ernie is an interesting chap in his own right. He once ran a drug store up here and one in Minnesota. His tall stories about fish and fishing finally caught on. Then he spent more time guiding his friends than in the drug store. So he made it into a business. This was 43 years ago and from present observations Ernie is just about one of the best known guides in Ontario.

the extreme western end of Ontario. It's big; it's wild and just from looking out of the train window I'd say we are never a minute without passing a lake or river. But there are small settlements and a lot more farms than one would think could be found. A lot of this north country can be reached by road—the rest by rail, canoe or afoot.

But to get back to Ernie—he had the first sports camps up in this region. More than 40 years ago he was taking people in for fishing and hunting. He's still doing it. His main camp is on Cedar Island, Sabaskong bay—eight miles from the nearest highway.

They have bass, walleyes and muskies with northern pike and lake trout thrown in. The area has 16,000 islands just to give an idea of its vastness. A large part of it, of course, is in park.

Many prize fish have come out of here. We are sorry that the muskie season doesn't open until June 20 and bass July 1. But we can try lake trout and northern pike (no season) and maybe even catch a walleye as the season opened May 15.

(EDITOR'S NOTE—The Escanaba Daily Press will publish a daily account of the fishing trip being taken by Phil Rich, publisher of the Midland News, with a party of newspaper writers.)

Hogan has played some of his hottest golf on the 7020 yard Riviera course, hard by the Pacific.

Guardsmen Prepare For Field Training At Camp Grayling

With the coming of June, thoughts of all Michigan National Guardsmen are turning to preparations for their annual field encampment to be held this summer at Camp Grayling, the 50,000-acre state military reservation on the shores of Lake Margrethe in Crawford County.

More than 100 army units of the National Guard from 40 different Michigan communities will converge upon Camp Grayling for their second annual postwar encampment August 7 to 21. Fourteen air National Guard units, too, will move into the Grayling area August 1 to 15 for their first postwar exercises. The air units will be based at the huge Grayling air field on the outskirts of Grayling. It is expected that more than 6,000 Guardsmen will participate in the field training program this summer in contrast to 2,700 who participated in the Guard's initial postwar encampment last year. Approximately 600 members of the National Guard's fighter and bomber squadrons from Kellogg Field, Battle Creek, and Romulus Army Air Base will participate in the air maneuvers, under the command of Major Donald W. Armstrong, Detroit.

Michigan's new 46th Division, under the command of Maj. General Ralph A. Loveland, Ann Arbor, is 95 per cent organized, and the last remaining combat unit, a rifle company at Detroit, is expected to be activated this month.

Dealers Shown Care Of Fruits, Vegetables

Housewives in this area will be offered a higher grade of fruits and vegetables in retail stores as a result of a produce school being held here four times per week.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture and the United Fruit and Vegetable association are sponsoring a United Merchandising Institute in Escanaba to which 250 fruit and vegetable dealers have already applied.

Retailers are taught how to care for all fruits and vegetables, placing special emphasis on cleanliness and preservation. Overnight care, proper trimming and pricing and accounting are also covered.

Charles Martin and J. B. Green of Kansas City, Mo., are instructing. The classes are designed to handle 10 dealers daily, in sessions from 8 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. The first class was offered Monday, and since, the produce school has taken on added prestige through the type of material and information offered.

Classes are held at the Northwest Fruit company warehouse, managed by Al Geartts.

Main Street Traffic

THE four traffic lanes marked off on Ludington street, two for eastbound traffic and two for westbound traffic, help to regulate the flow of motor vehicles on the city's main business street, but the system can work most efficiently only if motorists observe the established lanes.

Unfortunately many motorists straddle the lanes and some straddle the center line. The problem is complicated, of course, by the angle parking of automobiles, as the traffic lane closest to the curb must also be used for cars backing out of curb stalls. There is not enough room on half of the street for two lanes of moving traffic plus space for the backing of cars from curb strips.

Nevertheless, one lane of traffic can move almost continuously if the lane closest to the center line is used primarily by motorists who do not plan curb stops. Obviously motorists driving in the lane closest to the curb must watch cautiously for cars backing away from the curb.

The purpose of the four lane system is to provide most efficient utilization of the available space on Ludington street. With the increase in the number of automobiles on the street, maximum efficiency is necessary to properly flow the traffic without increasing traffic hazards.

The tendency of some drivers to weave in and out of traffic lanes can only lead to more accidents.

The Largest Ship

THE United States Navy is planning to build the largest ship in the world's history.

It will be an aircraft carrier of 65,000 tons, longer and wider than the Queen Mary, the Normandie, or the Queen Elizabeth. The huge structure, awesome in size and might, will cost about $124,000,000 and will serve as a floating airfield, a launching platform for aircraft equipped with radar and atomic bombs.

"It is a pathetic commentary on the state of the world that so much money, so much skill and energy and ingenuity, should go into a structure useless save for war," says the Ottawa Journal. Worse than that, such a ship must be devoted primarily to the purposes of destruction. It will carry no food cargoes, no friendly mail, no factors of friendship or commerce from country to country.

Imagine the good that such a ship could do if, loaded with messages of good will, life-saving foods and the seeds of food plants, and with the remedies which science has unearthed for the prevention and cure of disease and suffering, if sailed from port to port on a friendly cruise, unloading benefits instead of bombs. The cost would be less than one per cent of a first class war, and the good accomplished would be incalculable.

The cussedness and the madness of mankind would promptly squelch any such fool idea as that. We must prepare for war, we are told, with people who certainly do not want war any more than we do. Bertrand Russell, famous psychologist and philosopher, outlines the situation in a recent book. He shows the part that philosophy has played in the development of mankind, and how the evil counsels of Pichte and Nietzsche have ruined Germany and half-ruined the world. He says that a unity philosophy must be found soon, or mankind will sink into the abyss.

Agreement Reached On Western Germany

FAILING to reach any agreement with Russia on proposals for the unification of Germany, the western powers have acted to unify at least that portion of Germany under their control. An agreement to that effect has been reached by the countries of Great Britain, France, the United States, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Under terms of the agreement a West German federal government will be established. The coal and iron producing area of the Ruhr valley will be under international control as a safeguard against German rearmament. Absolute guarantees are being made to assure that Germany will not again become a military threat in Europe.

Unification is necessary if Germany is to make the contribution for European economic recovery of which she is capable. The United States is spending huge sums of money to sustain Western Germany. It is senseless that this procedure should continue indefinitely.

Russia has steadfastly refused to participate in any program for unification of Germany, presumably because the Russians prefer to retain iron control over their occupation zone for the purpose of communicating the area.

The quarrel between the western powers and Russia on the recovery program in Germany is the natural result of conflicting objectives. Russia prefers to maintain conditions of economic unrest, squalor and hunger because such conditions provide fertility for the Communist line.

Aliens In U. S. Army

THE U. S. Senate voted Tuesday night to permit 25,000 aliens to enlist in the American Army and after five years of service, the aliens would be eligible for American citizenship. The proposal which was adopted by a 43-33 vote in the Senate requires house concurrence.

The proposal to permit aliens to serve in the Army has considerable merit, aside from the fact that it reduces by 25,000 the number of Americans who would have to be drafted.

Presumably the aliens who offered themselves for enlistment would be carefully screened and only those with definite democratic sympathies would be accepted. Further, it would be necessary to determine whether those who sought to join the American army could reasonably be expected to become good citizens of this country after completing the minimum requirement of five years military service.

The truth of the matter is that the citizenship provision for alien enlistees offers a better chance to secure quality foreigners for American citizenship than our present immigration laws provide.

The 25,000 aliens accepted for service in the army under the senate proposal would not be organized into a foreign legion but rather would be spread through the Army to serve with Americans. This is a particularly good plan because it makes possible indoctrination of American ideals through association with American citizens. Also it escapes the principle of a foreign legion American army which is distasteful, to say the least, to most Americans.

LEADERSHIP IS KEY

(Iron Mountain News)

When William G. Robinson, recreation consultant for the University of Michigan, told a group in the city building here the other night that leadership is the key to the future of organized recreation, he sounded the theme, also, for all community effort. Any program, recreation or otherwise, is only as good as its leaders. The trouble is—and always has been—there are too few leaders.

It is a significant fact that whenever there is a community job to do, the same group of loyal leaders is usually asked to do it. Occasionally, but all too rarely, a new face appears in the lineup. More generally, the men and women who come forth to do the job are the ones who have been doing it for the past five, 10 or even 20 years.

The reason for this inequitable situation is obvious. Whenever a sponsoring agency wants a job done, it goes first to the busy men and women. And busy as they are, they usually manage—if the cause is right—to squeeze in one more job on their well-filled schedule.

It is one way of getting the job done, but it is not the way to encourage a maximum development of competent leadership in civic affairs. True, it is not always easy to get "new" people to take community jobs and accept their full share of civic responsibility. Rather than plead or argue about it, we go right back to the same faithful group.

We cannot go along with this theory or practice. We believe that more and younger people can be encouraged to come forward with their share of the work if there is adequate and emphatic appeal to their civic obligation and pride.

A college professor says fish don't hear. They've been turning a deaf ear to our line for years.

It's not much fun to sit around with your mouth shut, but think of the laws you're obeying.

Do as much walking as possible if you want to live long, says a medical adviser. But stay on the same side of the street.

PET SPEECH PEEVE

This week's Pet Speech Peeve comes from Mrs. Louisa Blackshear of Taft, Calif. She will receive an autographed copy of my new Handbook.

"It irritates me very much to hear so many radio speakers make the inexcusable and elementary error of saying 'eer' for the syllable 'ing.' Disk-jockeys, announcers, and commentators are saying 'calleen' for calling, 'meeteen' for meeting, 'choosen' for choosing, and so on. Why do they do it?"

Why? I wish I knew. But I have pointed out the error a number of times.

Those who say "een" for "ing" are apparently unable to hear the fault in their own speech. A young announcer, who coached with me for a while, had the "een" habit, but denied it indignantly. Once after being corrected a little sternly, he exclaimed: "But I keep telling you, I am NOT saying 'een'."

It is hard to account for the mislocation. But I can suggest a way to correct it. First, pronounce slowly and carefully these words: bean, clean, dean, keen, scene, wean. Note that the "n" of each word is formed by pressing the tongue tip against the upper dental arch.

Secondly, pronounce these words: bing, cling, ding, king, sing, wing. Note that the "ng" is a nasal sound formed by pressing the back of the tongue against the soft

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington. — "What we need is more business men in government." "Only a man who has met a payroll can run a big undertaking." "Let's use the brains that industry uses to achieve big things."

How many times in recent years have we heard that kind of talk. It is invariably the cry when government is faced with a big task.

So what happens? The European Recovery Program is one of the biggest jobs ever contemplated—spending billions of dollars in order to bring about the rehabilitation of western Europe. President Truman names as boss of this job Paul G. Hoffman, one of the ablest men in American industry.

If you were to point out to a foreigner the best type of American industrialist, you would probably pick Hoffman. He is the kind of dynamic individual who gets things accomplished.

There is nothing solemn or pompous about him. There is a humorous glint in his eye as he sails in to do what has to be done. The man who built the Studebaker Corp. into a thriving business has many of the qualities that Sinclair Lewis gave to the hero of his novel, "Dodsworth."

RULES ARE DIFFERENT

So Paul Hoffman comes to Washington. And he promptly finds that the rules under which he must work are utterly and completely different from anything that any industrialist ever faced.

Hoffman is much too sensible to complain. Or if he does mutter, he keeps his complaints for his wife and his closest friends. But the point involved here is so important that it seems to me Hoffman's position should be explored objectively. A man playing under a set of rules that give him broad authority to exercise his judgment and talents, suddenly finds himself in a new kind of game with a dozen jealous guardians breathing down his neck.

As the head of a big corporation, Hoffman has been responsible to his board of directors. The test of his ability, and therefore the test of whether or not he kept his job, was his capacity to produce good motor cars that could be sold at a profit. Achieving that, he also achieved a considerable measure of independence.

His board of directors in the new job is Congress. When the president appointed him and the Senate approved, he accepted in the belief that the board of directors had made up its mind on the task at hand.

Hoffman very quickly discovered, however, that this was not so. He spent a lot of time debating the terms of the job with a crotchety member of the board of directors named John Taber.

PROGRAM IS HAMSTRUNG

Appearing before the Taber faction of the board, Hoffman has had to state in advance what he intended to do with every bit of the money that was about to be turned over to the boss. (Or is it?) Thus he had to make commitments, or go through the fiction of making commitments, well in advance of an undertaking that is shot full of intangibles and unknowables.

It is just as though the board of directors of Studebaker had said to Hoffman, "We want you to tell us what your production schedule is for the next 13 months. You must say how many convertibles, how many sedans and how many coupes you will make and how many will be yellow, green, blue and pink. You must tell us how much you will charge for each car and what the profit will be."

Obviously, no motor car president would think of giving final answers to such questions. Compared to the European recovery job, the motor car business is as simple as making mudpies in the back yard.

Now, after he has been on the job for two months, one faction of the board of directors tells the boss that the whole project is to be slashed by 25 per cent. This decree comes down from on high despite the fact that Hoffman and everyone else familiar with the undertaking have said repeatedly that to cut it even a little below the $5,300,000,000 level would make recovery and rehabilitation impossible.

The moral of all this is obvious. It is of no avail to bring in an industrialist—even the ablest industrialist—if he is to be hamstrung by confusion, uncertainty, doubts, snarls or red tape and the harassment of jealousy and suspicion.

There is another faction in the unwieldy board of directors that sits over Hoffman. The spokesman for this faction in the Senate is Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg. This faction must restore the cut in ERP funds and they must see to it that Hoffman gets at least a little of the independence that goes with running a successful industry.

palate, causing the sound to pass only through the nose.

Now then. To pronounce "ing" correctly, do not permit the tongue tip to touch the dental arch. Make the sound of "ing" exactly as it is made in bing, cling, ding, etc., i. e., with the back of the tongue against the soft palate.

That's all there is to it. And my readers will do much toward stamping out the dialectal "een" for "ing" if they will clip today's column and send it to those radio offenders who are habitually mispronouncing hundreds of important words in "een."

We are all hopeful that they will soon stop saying "een."

Do you know when to use "herself" "yourself," "myself," etc.? If not, Mr. Colby's leaflet, C-23, "Self Words," will explain two rules to help you use these words correctly.

printed by a staff of students under faculty supervision. Advertising is included in the school paper, although the ads in the majority are directed toward student readers.

One advertiser recently received an invoice for the space he had purchased, glanced at it and then chuckled approvingly. "I guess we don't have to worry," he said. "The future of the country will be in good hands when those kids grow up."

His sense of business acumen was tickled by a slogan that appeared at the top of the invoice: "The Only Advertising Medium That Has 100 per cent Coverage of Escanaba Senior High School."

NOT SO SMOOTH — The initiative and the hard work that made the name "American" synonymous with the will to get ahead is still to be found among our young people. For the majority the path way to an education is smooth, while for a minority is still a rugged experience.

Edward Edick, Escanaba Senior high school principal, speaking at a meeting of the Escanaba Rotary club which honored high school honor graduates and their parents, had words of praise for Joe Ouradnik of Fayette. To help earn his room and board in Escanaba, Joe worked at part-time jobs. He wants to be an engineer, he studied hard. It is part of the American system that recognized in Joe the good qualities that deserve reward, for his scholastic attainments brought him a scholarship to Michigan College of Mining and Technology. There he can continue his studies toward a degree in engineering.

GONE TO ALASKA — Merle Nelson is another honor student of the Class of 1948 who is ready and willing to work for what he wants. Principal Edick said that Merle, intent on going into a lumbering venture in Alaska, finished his high school work two weeks ahead of the others in his class. When diplomas were handed out when public honors were given the graduates, when the honor students were feted—Merle was in the Yukon.

COMPETITION — Not to be overlooked in the list of 1948 graduates who won distinction through hard work is Jim Moran of 1012 South 7th avenue, Escanaba.

He was one of two Michigan high school seniors to win a four-year scholarship which will send him to college with full tuition, a monthly allowance, and traveling expenses paid for four years. One thousand seven hundred and twenty-six other students in Michigan participated in the competition for the Pepsi-Cola scholarship, and in the nation the total was 48,112 students.

There was no easy way to attain that scholarship. Students of the schools first elect the classmates they think are "most likely to make an important contribution to human progress." Jim came through the preliminary tests as one of the top 15 finalists

In Michigan, and in January he took the regular supervised college aptitude test of the College Entrance Examination Board. He finished as one of the top two in the state and thereby won the scholarship award.

Jim will attend the University of Michigan and a study of labor or corporation law will be his objective.

SCHOLARSHIPS — The Pepsi-Cola scholarship project is the largest scholarship outside of government subsidy. Each year scholarships valued at $300,000 are distributed in the United States, and the scholarship plan is completely controlled and administered by educators themselves. The scholarship board is composed of officials of 13 colleges, universities and other educational institutions.

TO AID YOUTH — Principal Edick cited the value of scholarships in announcing the graduates of the Class of '48 who had received them.

"They are living memorials to the donors," he said. "They serve a useful purpose in assisting young people to gain an education who might otherwise never attain their goal. Year after year they honor those who established scholarship funds." Then he added significantly: "There is no finer memorial."

Most recent bequest for scholarships was that of Mrs. Catharine Bonifas, who willed the income from $50,000 for that purpose. The scholarships are to be awarded to "worthy graduates of any high school in Escanaba."

New York. (P)—Joe and Jane college, graduating this month from the ivory tower forever, feel like Eliza with the bloodhounds baying near and no cake of ice to leap to.

Their commencement address too often is delivered by a weary fossil, exhumed and rented for the occasion in a rented cap and gown, who whips five-karat platitudes at their troubled heads like a tired jingo bawler.

Why? Here's one man's idea of how to welcome these retired campus fugitives in an honest way to the busy world we dwell in:

"Dear members of the 1948 graduating class:

"Shake that ivy out of your hair! As soon as prexy gives you your diploma, hand it over to papa and mama. They earned it—the hard way.

"Now you have to start earning. And that means you've got to start using elbow grease for fuel instead of the midnight oil. "You've reached the time when they separate the men and women from the boys and girls. Face it. It's fun.

"And I know how you feel—proud a little, scared a lot, asking yourself what comes next? Don't let it get you down. Every man who got out of a penitentiary felt that way—a little afraid of the open places, and wondering if there was a place for him. "Let's take up Jane College first. Joe and then we'll deal with you.

"Jane, as a man my advice to you is short and brief. This is because I have learned that a good woman is born with more wisdom than a good man dies with.

"For all your accent on grey matter, your problem still is to marry some unworthy dope give him courage through life, bear children by him and raise them in your own cheerful image.

"Nothing else will make you live so long and happily. Should you marry the sad sack you helped through chemistry and American government? If you've known and loved him for years, yes. Campus marriages usually last. And if you don't want to the girl with him, some high school girl will.

"As for you Joe, don't be big-domed worried fool. Sure, you've got to get a job—but people have been doing that since Adam was able to raise Cain. "You're lucky. Getting some kind of a job is going to be fairly easy. It wasn't always that way. When I got my sheepskin in 1932 we could have used the wool too. We needed a suit. Some of the boys who lined up for a diploma moved right over to the next line—the breadlines.

"But at any time getting a job is easier than holding it—which takes the long pull. How can you get ahead? Through hard work and friendship. But the friends make the difference. You will find there is more kindness in the world than your history lessons led you to expect, and less barefaced evil than you thought to meet.

"The world is half afraid of new ideas, but there is nothing that can put you higher quicker than a good new idea. Ideas are all around you. For 2,000 years women used straight hair pins. In your own lifetime lived a man who put a crinkle in the hairpin—and made a million dollars from it.

"For the rest of it, boys and girls, help more people than help you. Never break the golden chain of good will."

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington. — There are definite signs that James V. Forrestal, most powerful member of the cabinet and the man with the most influence around the White House is slipping. He has definitely slipped with Congress, and he is also slipping somewhat with President Truman.

There was a day when Forrestal could get anything he wanted from Harry Truman. He used the technique of telling Harry what a great man he was, how his policies were absolutely right, that he didn't have to worry about re-election.

But now those close to the president say he has wised up to the fact that the charming secretary of defense led him down a blind alley when he got him to reverse the United Nations on Palestine, and that a lot of Forrestal's other advice has had a hollow ring.

The secretary of defense, however, is not one to give up easily. He has had his way in Washington too many years—and power can be a headstrong potion. This explains why Forrestal is reported out to get the scalp of Air Secretary Stuart Symington, the man who licked him on the 70-group Air Force.

At cocktail parties, Forrestal has dropped a few hints lately about his distaste for the man who came out on top with Congress. And talking to a group of senators recently, the secretary of defense warned that the money for the 70-group Air Force couldn't be spent wisely—this after Congress had already voted the money.

Warning to his subject, Forrestal finally mentioned Symington by name.

"He can't get away with a vote like that," growled the secretary of defense. "That's something that hasn't happened to me in eight years around this town." Significantly Forrestal added: "And he hasn't gotten away with it yet."

TUCKER AUTO IN MIRE

The axe is now falling on Preston Tucker, the revolutionary automobile man, and falling hard. The first blow came last week when Tucker received a telegram from War Assets Administrator Jess Larson denying him the sale of the government's steel blast furnace at Cleveland.

"The War Assets administration," read the telegram, "today declined all bids received in connection with the disposal of the government-owned blast furnace and by-product coke oven, known as Republic Steel Facility, located at Cleveland, Ohio, designated as Plan COR 257. War Assets administration rejected these bids because they were inadequate."

This means that Tucker will have no steel to make his cars. Republic Steel, which isn't making cars, but wanted the blast furnace, also was turned down.

Meanwhile the justice department has 5 G-men investigating Tucker for alleged mail frauds. Likewise, the securities and exchange commission is breathing hot on Tucker's back over his latest money-raising scheme. He has been trying to get his sales agencies to order accessories, even though he still isn't certain of ever producing the automobiles to match.

Tucker has oversubscribed his stock—a total of $25,000,000 being sold to the public—and has also sold out his franchises in advance, reaping in another seven million dollars. All this took a lot of promoting for a man who doesn't know where the steel for his first car is coming from.

GOVERNMENT WAS SYMPATHETIC

Top of all that, Sen. Ferguson's committee is investigating how Tucker was able to move into his huge Chicago plant two months before the deal was completed with war assets. A House committee, headed by Rileys of Oklahoma, also took a preliminary look into Tucker's operations, wrote up its findings and turned them over to Ferguson last week.

The War Assets administration, believing that any struggling, new enterprise deserves a break, did its best to bring the warring Tucker and Republic Steel to terms, lined up a deal to turn over the Cleveland furnace to Republic provided Republic would furnish 77,000 tons of steel. Then Tucker walked out on the deal, demanded all or nothing.

In order to see how far the government dared go to help Tucker, the War Assets administration offered to have a group of government engineers check Tucker's basic designs and report back what the risk would be. But Tucker refused, screamed that it was a move to steal his inventions.

Note—Officials say that Republic Steel has been equally high-handed regarding the blast furnace, wants to keep everyone out and get the plant for themselves for a shoestring.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Senator Bob Taft is handing out tie pins, left over from the presidential campaign of his father, William Howard Taft. The pins are initialed with a big letter "T."

Representative George Bender of Ohio has figured out the best political emblem since Alf Landon's sunflower—the four-leaf clover. It will be used by Taft forces at the Republican national convention in Philadelphia. The Air Force would like to organize a "Freedom Trailer" if it can scrape enough money from the budget. The plan is to make duplicate copies of historical American documents, displayed in the Freedom Train, and carry them in trailers to the small communities around Mitchell Field, New York, later to other small communities that missed the Freedom Train.

UNDER THE DOME

Joseph Sturgeon Will Run For State Senate

Joseph A. Sturgeon of Gladstone, former owner and publisher of the Delta Reporter, today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for state senator from the 30th senatorial district. The senate seat was vacated recently by the death of Senator George Girbach of Sault Ste. Marie in an automobile accident.

Mr. Sturgeon was born in Escanaba township, Delta county, in 1895, and has been a resident of the Upper Peninsula most of his life. He learned the printing trade in Escanaba. He left for military service in World War I from Manistique, and came to Gladstone in 1923 to become publisher of the Reporter.

Mr. Sturgeon gained much legislative experience at Lansing as correspondent for Michigan newspapers and at Washington as secretary to the late Congressman Fred Bradley. He retired from business with the sale of the Delta Reporter in May, 1947, and consequently points out that he would be able to give his full time to the office if elected to the state senate.

The 30th senatorial district comprises the seven Upper Peninsula counties of Menominee, Delta, Schoolcraft, Mackinaw, Chippewa, Luce and Alger.

Original "Pioneer" To Make Its Fifth Stellar Appearance

The original "Pioneer" will once again—for the fifth time—play a starring role in the drama of transportation this summer.

The 10-ton, wood-burning locomotive made the first trip out of Chicago 100 years ago—a maiden journey that marked the beginning of an era that saw the opening of the Middle West and the growth of Chicago as the railroad capital of the world.

Many years later it was retired but three times since then the Chicago and North Western Railway's original engine has been used to represent the pioneering spirit of railroads—during the 1893 Columbian Exposition, the St. Louis Exposition in 1904, and again in the 1933-34 World's Fair.

This, the fifth time, however, the "Pioneer" will ride the rails again, mounted on one of the flat cars that will make up the Centennial Train to visit Escanaba on Tuesday, June 15 and a score of other cities in the Midwest during the summer.

Engine Well Preserved

The famed locomotive underwent extensive grooming in the North Western shops for the coming trip. However, mechanics who did the job found they had only minor repairs to make since the engine was so well preserved.

In addition to repairing and reconditioning the locomotive, draftsmen, designers, carpenters, steel-workers and laborers worked together to build from scratch a duplicate of the original tender and an exact replica of the first coach to roll behind the "Pioneer." Working from original documents, faded and dusty with age, the North Western craftsmen duplicated every detail of the old coach—the almost-flat roof; the small, square windows; the open platforms with steep steps and wrought-iron handrails. This faithful attention to detail was carried into the painting of the coach, and painters were meticulous in obtaining the exact shade of yellow for the main portion of the body; the exact tint of brown for the trim.

Built by Baldwin

The "Pioneer" was one of the first engines built by the Baldwin Locomotive Works, and before being sold to the Galena and Chicago Union Railroad, forborne of the North Western, was in service on two Eastern railroads. It weighs 10 tons, has cylinders 10 inches in diameter with an 18-inch stroke, one pair of driving wheels and two pairs of lead wheels, and generates 120 horsepower. The cab is wooden, with four windows in front and two on each side.

After its appearance on the two-month Centennial Tour, the "Pioneer" will be featured in the gigantic Chicago Railroad Fair, to be held on the Lake front beginning in mid-July. The Fair commemorates the first run of the "Pioneer" out of Chicago on October 25, 1848.

Galena's Backers Blind To Infant Chicago's Prospects

Backers of the first railroad to operate west out of Chicago, 100 years ago, didn't foresee that the Windy City would become the nation's rail hub.

Chicago's first railroad was named the Galena & Chicago Union, with Galena placed first in the name because the lead mining town appeared likely to prosper the most. Galena then was larger than Chicago.

However, the Galena railroad never laid tracks to Galena, and, paradoxically, the road never reached Galena except as a spur line 50 years later, from another direction.

The "Pioneer," first locomotive of the Galena which made its initial run out of Chicago October 25, 1848, will be brought here by the North Western's Centennial Train.

YANK TEACHES PERU INDIANS

Trains Natives To Do Work Of Ancestors

BY ROBERT RUARK

Lima, Peru—Us native Peruvians never cease to marvel at the ingenuity of the Gringo. We have a Yankee down here now who has marshalled the wonders of modern government and modern science in order to teach the Indians how to be primitive. This is known as completing the circle, or something.

Truman Bailey is a lean American with a bushy mustache. He smokes a pipe and habitually wears moccasins and a checked lumberjack shirt. He is a reformed free lance buyer for large American department stores. He came down here in 1939 to buy Peruvian bric-a-brac for his clients, and wound up as a government project.

Today Mr. Bailey bosses a busy workshop of 887 people in Lima. Using lathes, rip-saws and tools of Mr. Bailey's personal invention, they carve leather, pound silver, weave cloths, and shape vessels and statues—all after the fashion of the ancient, pre-Colombian natives of these parts.

Indians Became Modern
Before Mr. Bailey took a hand, the Indians had relapsed completely into modernity. They were molding their pottery around jars of Elizabeth Arden face cream, and stealing their designs from Sears, Roebuck catalogues. Their old skills had vanished. They had mislaid the secrets of their head-shrinking forebears.

Bailey, with a merchandiser's shrewdness, evaluated some of the relics in the museums—pottery, hammered silver, and the like. He appraised the wood-carvings, and admitted the ancient tapestries, and he figured he had a jackpot if he could reactivate the ancient Inca arts and crafts. But it would, he decided, take time.

I think he could have sold the proposition to a syndicate of department stores. Instead, he sold it to Uncle Sugar, in 1942, the Inter-American Development Commission put up some money, and the Peruvian government matched it. The total was $44,000.

Then followed a highly scientific program. Bailey and assistants lived in a laboratory, analyzing this fiber and that dye. They went into the survey business, to find out where certain woods had come from, and how many such trees were still available. They re-discovered, by means of microscope and test tube, the long-buried techniques of a moldering people. Bailey began to hire Indians, and to give them a 3000-year-old refresher course on how the ancestors did it. Except, of course, he was using modern instruments instead of sharpened stones and implements of hammered copper. His is purely a trade school: he teaches no moral lessons, he is not interested in converting his pupils to any faith or creed. All he wants to know is whether they can carve wood, tool leather, spin fabrics, shape utensils, make figurines or beat silver into form.

Land-Office Business
Land-office business is a corny descriptive phrase, but that is exactly what Bailey and his hirelings are doing. They can't fill their orders, which run anywhere from a wooden salad set to a crucifix for a church altar. Business has swelled so that a big branch office is to be opened in Cuzco, up in the hills. The sample shop in Lima is crammed with customers, daily—and so much work is done that there is little retail stuff to buy.

The entire project has reverted to the Peruvian government, at a cost of $26,000 to the U. S., because an additional American loan of $14,000 is nearly repaid, from the profits of the shop. Eventually when he finds the men for it, the ever-canny Bailey will channel off the excess to his original customers, the American department stores.

It is beautiful work. It is clean and simple and functional, and with enough artistic merit to warrant the publishing of a fat pamphlet about it by the museum.

Swedish Industry Head Will Come On Tuesday

Bertil Kugelberg, managing director of the Swedish Employers' association since 1947, is a member of the delegation accompanying Prince Bertil of Sweden on his visit here on Tuesday.

A. T. Schiberg, chairman of the Delta County Swedish Pioneer Centennial committee, stated that Prince Bertil and members of his party will be guests at a Swedish club luncheon at the Gladstone Golf club following the Escanaba program Tuesday evening.

Born in Stockholm July 31, 1900, Kugelberg was graduated from the law school of Uppsala university. He served on the Circuit Court of Appeals, the Treasury Board for Truman Bailey has begun a new industry in Peru—one which is spreading and spreading, and will continue to spread. It might even be said that his project brought more good will for the big brother up north than all the slick-paper pamphlets the Inter-American affairs people put out during the war. But I still think it's a little presumptuous for a visiting Yankee to take on the job of teaching the rating of government property, the Ministry of Education, and was named as the Swedish Employers association in 1928. He also as negotiation expert for various organizations and insurance companies during various periods from 1933 to 1942.

Kugelberg also has been active in war relief organization work in

First Bishop Baraga Day At Marquette On June 27

Marquette—His Excellency Most Reverend Thomas L. Noa, seventh successor to Bishop Frederick Baraga, first ordinary of the diocese of Sault Ste. Marie and Marquette, has designated Sunday, June 27, as the first annual diocesan observance of Bishop Baraga Day.

Rt. Rev. Msgr. John T. Holland, rector of St. Peter's Cathedral, Marquette, general chairman of the observance, stated this past week that extensive plans and preparations by groups of priests and laymen are now in progress and the purpose is to make the day an outstanding event in local church history as well as a great step forward in Bishop Baraga's cause of canonization.

Baraga Day will be celebrated in Marquette where the mortal remains of the saintly Bishop are entombed in the Bishops' crypt beneath the sanctuary of the Bishops' chapel which is attached to St. Peter's cathedral.

Because it is expected that thousands will attend the solemnities on June 27, it has been decided to have the mass and accompanying ceremonies in the Palestra arena. Eleven o'clock, C. D. S. T. is the hour set for the beginning of the procession which will escort the Bishops to the altar.

Cathedral Is Host
Sponsors of the Baraga Day observance are the clergy of St. Peter's Cathedral, Rt. Rev. Msgr. John T. Holland, rector; Rev. Fr. Alderic Paquet, Rev. Fr. Wilbur Gibbs, Rev. Fr. George Pernaski, assistants. Jointly sponsoring the day is the Bishop Baraga association, with headquarters at St. Mary's Seminary, Lemont, Ill.

In preparation for the observance the association historian, Joseph Gregorich, Oak Park, has prepared a series of articles on the life of Bishop Baraga which has run consecutively in the Northern Michigan edition of Our Sunday Visitor since February 8. The series will be concluded in the issue of June 27.

Bishop Haas To Preach
Bishop Noa will offer the Pontifical high mass at which the Most Reverend Francis J. Haas, Bishop of Grand Rapids, will preach the sermon on the life and virtues of the saintly first Bishop of the Marquette diocese.

Luncheon to the visiting clergy will be served in Cathedral hall by the Cathedral Altar society. Mrs. Wilfred Sommers is chairman of the group. After luncheon there will be a brief time for visiting the tomb of Bishop Baraga in the Cathedral crypt. The annual meeting of the Baraga association will close the day's observance. It will begin at three o'clock, and will be held in Cathedral hall.

Luncheon For Visitors
For the accommodation of the visitors and local people attending the Pontifical mass, the St. Michael Altar society will serve a luncheon in the Palestra right after mass. Mrs. Dominic Saul is chairman of the group. Details of this service will be announced later.

Committees
The Rt. Rev. Msgr. John T. Holland, Cathedral rector and general chairman of the observance, announces the following committee appointments:

Publicity—Rev. David P. Speltz.
Reception and accommodations—Rev. Emil J. Beyer.
Altar and pulpit—Rev. Ambrose Matejka.

Platform and seating—Rev. Joseph Kichak.

Organ and public address system—Rev. Wilbur Gibbs.

BERTIL FLYING TO ESCANABA

Local Airport Found To Be Adequate

Prince Bertil of Sweden and a delegation of leaders in Swedish industrial, political and civic life will fly direct from Detroit to Escanaba Tuesday morning, June 15, to participate in the Upper Peninsula's Swedish Pioneer-C. & N. W. Railway Centennial celebration.

STORES TO CLOSE
The retail merchants committee of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce announced that business places will close at 1 p. m. Tuesday for the Swedish Pioneer Centennial celebration. Restaurants are asked to remain open, however, to accommodate the many visitors expected to come to the celebration.

The official party will arrive at the Escanaba municipal airport at 11 a. m. in a chartered American Airlines plane. A previous plan to land at Menominee was abandoned after it was determined that the Escanaba municipal airport's runways could accommodate the huge ship.

At the Escanaba airport, the distinguished visitors will be welcomed by A. T. Sohlberg, Gladstone, chairman of the Delta County Swedish Centennial committee, and Dr. Norman L. Lindquist, chairman of Escanaba Chamber of Commerce's celebration committee, and other members of these groups.

A private luncheon will be held for Prince Bertil and his party at the marine room of the House of Ludington at noon. A conference for newspaper and radio representatives will be held at 11:30 a. m. before the luncheon. Accompanying the Swedish delegation will be prominent news correspondents and photographers from Stockholm, including Gunnar Gunnarsson of Dagens Nyheter, Bengt Janzon and Leonard Clairmont, Kortfilm; Lars Malmstrom, Aftonbladet; and Bo Fernlund, Blekinge lars Tidning.

A Swedish-C. & N. W. Centennial parade will be held in Ludington street at 2 p. m. Models of the C. & N. W.'s Pioneer train will participate, along with colorful floats depicting the Swedish history of the region.

Prince Bertil will give a 15-minute talk at the public meeting to be held at the U. P. State Fairgrounds at 3 p. m. An added attraction will be a brief exhibition by the Sofiafläckorna, who will give a sample of the complete program of Ling gymnastics and Swedish folk dances they will present at the Wm. W. Oliver auditorium at 8 p. m.

Prince Bertil will not be able to attend the evening show at the auditorium as he will leave by plane that night for Chicago. The fairgrounds program in the afternoon will be free of charge.

The night Sofiafläckorna show at the Oliver auditorium will be limited to 1,000 spectators. A nominal admission charge will be made for the night show, and tickets may be purchased at the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce office.

True airplane speed may be measured accurately by high frequency sound waves. The Mach number, the ratio of plane speed to the velocity of sound, can also be measured by the same means.

Infants usually prefer bright warm colors and show a strong liking for yellow, red and white.

A decibel is a unit for measuring sound, and experts judge that a subway express train produces 100 decibels; a lion's roar, 90 decibels; rustle of leaves, 10 decibels.

The predominant religion of Belgium is Roman Catholic.

MATCH-MAKERS—Fashion's latest fling at match-making is to bring gloves and vanity case together in the happy union of one design. The design, as shown by the happy mates above, is a stitching detail of hand-tied French knots. A contrast border of French knots which outlines fingers and seams of washable slip-on gloves also outlines a color-matched compact with a leather-like finish. (Dawnette) visits, really.

Writing once a week to parents who are loved shouldn't be a chore for the busiest man or hardest-working housewife.

Easy To Please

After all, parents are easy to please. They are interested in everything that concerns their children.

All he has to do is talk for a little while about himself—about the things that he is doing and thinking. In a letter to his parents he is talking to the least critical audience he will ever have.

A weekly letter home is not much, so far as the time and effort it takes to write it is concerned. But it is a big thing for the folks back home. It is reassurance that their children away from home aren't lost to their parents.

Weekly Letter
Home Should Be
Life-Time Habit

BY RUTH MILLETT

"Why don't you write a column," asks a man whose children are grown and scattered over the country, "on how much it means to the old folks back home to get a rambling, newsy letter from a son or daughter?"

It's a column that needs to be written, perhaps. Because most young people today are pretty poor letter writers.

Yet how can a family separated by distance stay close through the years unless the children, as well as the parents, are faithful about writing letters?

Surely every son or daughter owes his parents a weekly letter. And those letters should be more than a few lines. They should be

A WASHDAY MIRACLE YOU COULD NEVER GET BEFORE!

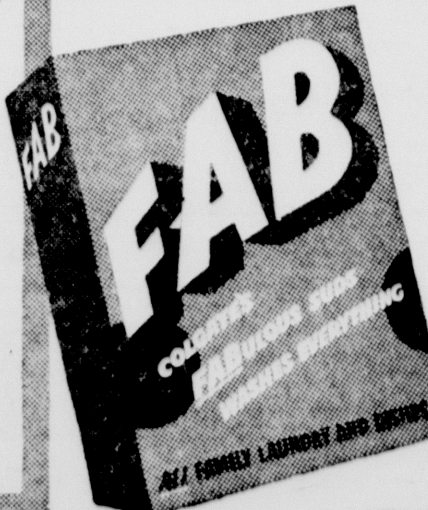

FAB gives FABULOUS SUDS, even in hardest water. FAB with Super-Wetting Action makes more suds, faster suds than soap. One cup of FAB was put into washer on left. One cup of soap into the one on right. Both washers ran 7 minutes. Result: A washer full of suds from FAB. Almost no suds from soap.

What is Super-Wetting Action?

See for yourself! Drop a little ball of cotton thread into a glass of water. It floats; stays dry for a long time. Drop another ball of thread into a glass of water and FAB. It sinks; is soaked instantly. This is FAB's Super-Wetting Action. Something no soap on earth has!

Prison Chief Bans All Private Radios In Jackson Cells

Lansing, June 10 (AP)—Corrections Commissioner Joseph W. Sanford said today he had ordered all private radios removed from Southern Michigan prison at Jackson by July 1.

The order, he said, applied to radios owned by inmates as well as to radios used by staff members in their offices.

"Inmates can rent earphones for 15 cents a month," Sanford said, "which can be plugged in on any one of three programs broadcast by the Central radio. I see no use in their being permitted private radios."

Sanford said he extended the order to private radios in offices, because "I can't see how a staff member can listen to his radio and get his work done too."

The possession of radios by inmates, Sanford said, was unhealthy because they could be forced by "well-heeled" prisoners. In addition, he said, they were traded off by departing inmates, leading to commercial deals among the prisoners.

State's First Flag Day
Honored French Emblem

Ann Arbor—Amidst pageantry and long speeches, Michigan's first Flag Day was held at Sault Ste. Marie, June 14, 1871.

It was the French flag that was honored on that occasion. The Stars and Stripes of the United States which will be honored on Flag Day next Monday (June 14) did not come into existence until 106 years later on June 14, 1777.

According to the Michigan Historical Collections at the University of Michigan the 1871 ceremony came about this way:

Simon Francois Daumont, Sieur de Saint Lussan, had been commissioned to take possession of the region for his King Louis XIV, in order to be ahead of the English, who already were in the Hudson Bay area.

News of the coming ceremony was sent to the 14 Indian tribes in the region. On June 14, dressed in their savage finery, the Redmen gathered on a knoll near St. Mary's River falls to take part in the ceremony with the Frenchmen.

From the stockade of the Mission there, the Indians saw a little procession come towards them. The Frenchmen were dressed in blue and white uniforms and had plumes waving from their hats. They carried the French flag of golden lilies on a field of white before them. With them were four priests in somber black robes, and French voyageurs with bright colored sashes about their waists. After exchanging greetings, the French proclamation was read aloud and translated for the Indians. A large wooden cross was erected on the spot, and the little band of Frenchmen sang an ancient hymn. A cedar post bearing a leaden plate inscribed with the royal arms of France was planted next to the cross.

Raising his sword in his right hand, holding a piece of sod in his left, and speaking in a loud voice, Saint Lussan took possession for Louis XIV of the Great Lakes, Manitoulin Island and of all other countries, rivers, lakes and tributaries bounded on the one side by the Northern and Western areas and on the other side by the South

Sea "including all its length and breadth."

Then the French saluted the flag and fired their muskets. The Indians, apparently impressed by such a celebration, whooped their approval. The ceremony ended with a great bonfire around which the French sang a Te Deum, "to thank God on behalf of these poor peoples, that they were now the subjects of so great and powerful a monarch."

After the French left, the Indians ripped the coat of arms from the post and, as lead was always a scarce item, used it to make bullets, according to Michigan Historical information.

A century later, the British by force of arms took the Great Lakes and the region east of the Mississippi from France, expecting to retain them as parts of their growing empire. But again the possession won by blood and money was only temporary. For 20 years later, by the Treaty of Paris, the area became a part of the infant United States, although the U. S. didn't take it over until 1796.

COMPENSATION HEARING FRIDAY

Unemployment Pay Of Inland Local Up

Unemployment compensation claims of members of Local 377 Mine, Mill & Smelter Workers, CIO, employees of the Inland Lime & Stone Company, will be subject of a hearing to be held at the court house on Friday morning at 9:00 o'clock before Michael J. O'Hara, of the MUCC.

These compensation claims take in the period between the first of the year and April 7 while the plant was shut down and the hearing will determine whether these claims will be honored or whether the contention that a wage dispute caused the shutdown and the situation made the claims of no effect.

Officials of the union had advised that each member of the union file individual claims and more than two hundred, it is known, have done this. These officials are urging that the members appear at the hearing and if necessary, support their claims.

Officials of the local, along with Gene Saari, an international union official will be present to serve as spokesmen for the union.

Don Arrowood, president of the local announces that a report on the results will be discussed at a meeting Sunday afternoon at the Odd Fellows hall.

Should these claims be honored, the union officials estimate that claims amounting to about $80,000 in the aggregate will be due and payable. This, however, will also depend on how many individual claims have been filed.

Minneapolis WAA Office Curtailed

The former Minneapolis region of the War Assets Administration has practically sold itself out of business, and the present regional offices was replaced by a class A Customer Service Center effective June 1, it was disclosed by Otto G. Klein, director of the WAA master region in Chicago.

Gerald M. Sheafar will act as manager of the center which will be located at room 201 Metropolitan Life building, corner of 2nd street and 3rd avenue, Minneapolis.

Klein stated that information centers would still be retained at Fargo, North Dakota, and Sioux Falls, South Dakota, as would the present class A customer service at Milwaukee, Wisconsin. All will be under the jurisdiction of the Chicago office.

Since the government began the disposal of surplus property, at first under the Reconstruction Finance corporation in 1945, the Minneapolis region has acquired $106,000,000 worth of surplus, about 80 percent of which was machine tools, Edward S. Clark, Acting District Director stated.

Of this amount, $101,000,000 worth has been disposed of, he said, leaving about $5,000,000 to be disposed of during June. Clark

SCHUSTER'S SUPER FOOD MART

Curt Simmons, $60,000 Phil Rookie, Beginning To Pay Off

BY JOE REICHLER
(P) Sports Writer

Apparently all that was troubling young Curt Simmons was a case of big league jitters.

Off to a poor start, the 19-year-old Egypt, Pa., high school graduate who received a record bonus of $60,000 from the Philadelphia Phillies last summer, is beginning to pay dividends on the investment.

The solidly-built southpaw gave the most impressive performance of his brief career last night when he outpitched the great Ewell Blackwell as the Phillies defeated the Reds 3-2 in Cincinnati.

Simmons was tagged for nine hits, but in only two innings did he allow more than one hit. He struck out nine redlegs.

The victory, which advanced the fifth place Phils to only two and a half games behind the first place New York Giants in one of the closest races in National League history, was Simmons' third in succession. He now has a record of four victories and four defeats. Just two weeks ago, Curt had only one victory against four setbacks.

Sisler Sizzles
Dick Sisler, hard-hitting Philly first baseman, accounted for all Philadelphia's runs with his ninth home run of the season which came with two men aboard in the third inning.

Blackwell, the Reds' ace right-hander, who gave up only five hits, was lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh inning. The St. Louis Cardinals missed an opportunity to take over first place when they suffered an 11-5 setback at the hands of the Boston Braves in a night game in St. Louis. A victory over the Braves would have put the Cards half a game on top.

The Giants, who started the day with a four percentage point lead, had split a doubleheader with the Cubs in Chicago and lost their four-point bulge. So, instead of being in second place, the Giants found themselves in front by half a game when the Cards got whipped.

After presenting the Cubs with five unearned runs to drop an 8-7 decision in the opener, the Giants came back to win the nightcap 5-1.

Kiner Hits Homer
Ralph Kiner's three-run homer highlighted a five run first inning and gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 6-4 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers. The Pirates now trail the third place Braves by three percentage points.

The Detroit Tigers came from behind twice to hang another defeat upon the skidding Athletics, 7-4, in a night game in Philadelphia. It was the A's fifth straight loss and dropped them into third place, a half game behind the New York Yankees. Philadelphia is now four games behind the American League leading Cleveland Indians.

Early Wynn registered his sixth victory as the fast-traveling Washington Senators whipped the St. Louis Browns 5-2 in another night game in Washington.

Rain forced the postponement of two games in the American League, Chicago at New York and Cleveland at Boston.

ALL-AMERICAN BOWLERS — Only holdover on Mort Luby's 1947-48 All-American bowling team is the ageless Andy Varipapa, holder of two national championships and generally accepted as the world's greatest trick shot artist. That's smiling Andy at upper left. Center above is Joe Wilman, Chicago, leader in ABC averages for the last 10 years, and right above is Ned Day, West Allis, Wis., winner of the 1948 ABC all-events title. Bottom row, left to right, are Walter Johnson, Fremont, Ohio; Russ Gersonde, Milwaukee, and Paul Krumke, Chicago. Varipapa, Wilman, Day and Krumke are former world match champions.

Tigers Come From Behind Twice To Beat A's, 7 to 4

Philadelphia, June 10 (P)—The Detroit Tigers, at last demonstrating their ability to win the hard ones, today went after their first clean sweep of a series in two dreary Eastern trips.

Twice last night the Tigers came from behind for their second straight win over the stumbling Philadelphia Athletics. The score was 7 to 4, with Paul (Dizzy) Trout the winner.

Today Virgil Trucks took the mound to try to crack the exclusive Trout-Hal Newhouser combine that so far has cornered all Detroit's victories on the current Eastern tour.

George Kell's first home run of the year in the sixth and four closely bunched singles in the seventh were the big factors in the Tiger win yesterday.

The Athletics had touched Trout for three runs in the first inning, so Detroit was trailing 3 to 0 when Kell came to bat in the sixth. Neil Berry and Eddie Lake were on base by virtue of singles. Kell then stepped up and lined Carl Scheib's first pitch in to the upper leftfield bleachers to tie the score.

Philadelphia promptly regained the lead in its half of the sixth, but the Tigers grabbed their winning margin in the seventh when Bob Swift and Trout singled. Ferris Fain made a fine play on Berry's bunt to get Swift at third, but Lake then slammed a safety to center to score Dizzy with the tying counter.

Dick Wakefield brought in Berry with another single after Kell fled out, and that finished Potter. But Bob Savage, the third Philadelphia pitcher, saw Lake cross the plate on an error by Eddie Joost before he could put out the side.

The final Tiger run came in the ninth on another error after Kell doubled. He went to third when Wakefield bounced Fain fired the ball wide past third base. Another streak of wildness got Trout into trouble in the Athletics seventh, and young Art Houtteman came in to relieve him. Hable to win a game of his own this year, did a good job of calming the Philadelphia scoring threat and saved the victory for Trout.

H-T Nine Wins
In a free swinging errorful game last night, Hughes-Tomlinson defeated Harnischfeger, 23-11. The H-T boys made 11 hits and eight errors. Harnies made 12 hits and 10 errors. Batteries: H-T—Nyquist, Cousineau and Ramspeck; Harnies—Cartwright and Dugener.

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS SPORTS "It Seems To Me"

BY IIM WARD

According to the latest communique from Ruppert's outdoor ring at Newark, N. J., rain is not expected to delay further the Tony Zale-Rocky Graziano world's middleweight championship bout tonight, postponed last night because of rain.

The New Joisey weather observers who make a living reading anonometers, theodolites et cetera expect considerable cloudiness this afternoon and evening—but no rain! The fight is slated to start at 9 p. m. (EST).

In anticipation of Jersey Joe Walcott's second try for the heavyweight title against Detroit's faded Brown Bomber, Joe Louis, June 23, it is interesting to read Walcott's story of that 1936 training camp incident in which Jersey Joe, then a Louis sparring partner, floored the champion.

With the help of Lewis Burton, the story appears in the current issue of The Saturday Evening Post and goes like this:

"When my turn came, my first move was to feint Louis into dropping his left. I crossed a right to the head that made his eyes narrow. I stepped around and stabbed him with jabs. I kept in motion from side to side. The harder he tried, the worse he looked. He dubbed his shots badly. As he lunged and missed with one big, angry hook, I came back with a right to the face.

"It wasn't a hard punch and couldn't have hurt, but it was perfectly placed and enough to knock him off balance. He stumbled awkwardly across the ring. The rope saved him from falling face first, and he landed on both knees," Walcott continued.

"That evening, after dinner, I was paid off and told I didn't have the right style for Louis."

The story may very well be true. Louis did look very bad in his first fight with Walcott. And he didn't behave well after the fight, namely the European tour that included night clubs in gay Paris. But we think Louis is better equipped mentally and physically than he was for that first go. We'll still take Louis.

Cuff notes: From a usually reliable source, we learn that Bob Ranguette is planning to play freshman ball at Michigan State next season instead of varsity ball on the advice of Alton S. Kircher, Gladstone's gift to Spartan coaching. . . . The theory behind this move is that a year of seasoning at the Spartan pace will do the Escanaba basketball star a world of good in the long run.
